“ Dear Sissy,

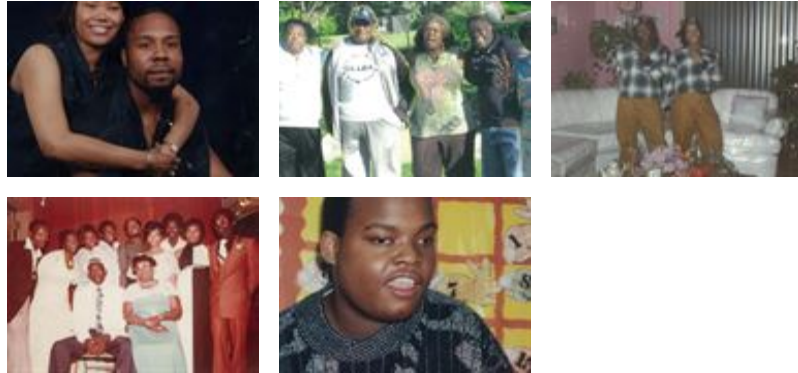

I want you know that I will always hold you near & dear to my heart. Our sisterhood carries over 20 years of great memories. Memories that will live forever....Our many conversations & prayer sessions connected our hearts forever and for that I'm grateful. The fact that I was the only person you would allow to pray for you before any procedure humbled me. Our last verbal conversation was the night before your surgery when we prayed. For some reason this conversation felt & seemed different because we both cried at the end of the prayer & we never do that. You told me how proud you were of me & that you loved me. I told you to tell me the rest when I came to visit you after your surgery. After watching you overcome soooo much medically. I just knew that you would overcome this too like a G.....BUT God said different & because I know you ran the race, kept the faith, & fought a good fight. I say REST WELL BELOVED & continue to look out for us. Sissy, you will be missed BUT forever in our hearts all the days of our lives. Thank you for EVERYTHING you've done for me & other people. You've always been loving & selfless.....So take your rest & know that your BAE will get through this because he knows you're good. It's never goodbye....it's see you later ~Tyra

My childhood BFF you will always be in my heart. The memories we shared as children and the conversations we had as adults will always bring me joy. I will never forget you or the crazy things we did as kids. May your family be comforted in knowing that you truly loved each and every one of them and that you are now in the arms of God dancing with your mom.
