18 yrs later and I still miss you The hurt and pain never goes away. It just gets easier to deal with because I'm used to this feeling now. I miss you so much. Sometimes I think I'm losing my mind or think I'm going crazy cause I'm in love with the person that's deceased, but nobody could never understand. I still remember the last time I see you. I close my eyes often and try to picture your face and I was so sad like a month ago because it was like your face was fading away in my thoughts now like it's getting harder for me to remember what you look like even if I got a picture in front of me I just miss you so much. That's where I do. It's like we had this whole life we blend out with our two girls in the house like everything just changed. I really do believe if it is a such thing as guardian angels I know with everything give me you mine and you definitely your daughters and she needs you so bad man. She needs you so bad. I know if you was here she'll be different. I just asked you just continue to guide her and watch over her because sometimes I get scared. I get real scared man. I don't know if I come back from losing my baby girl and I say that because of how I feel about losing you I love you. You know I miss you, my heart. Will forever have this empty hole in it and no matter how much love I give out to others. I can't feel that space and I know it's because that was the space in my heart that was just for you. I try to think about all the good times we had and you would be surprised I don't fight no more after I lost you. I refuse to make bad memories of fighting with my significant other when I could be loving them now, don't get me wrong. You know I argue but fighting no so even after your life you still was teaching me things and I will be forever. Grateful for you, my friend. He was really my best friend. I don't know if I'm met ever love anybody else the way I loved you. I really believe everyone in this world get one true love and I know you were mine and I hope I was yours, but you definitely was mine. I could say that to anybody at any time loud I love Tyrone Elroy popular savage, but everybody already knows that of course I'm not naïve. I love. I'm in love right now, but it never feel the way I felt when I was with you and I just accepted that now. I love you.

“ To the Poplar and Savage families, I was so sorry to hear about Mann. I met him and his mom, Mary, when we all lived in Westwood Manor. My daughters, Marquella and LaQuella, were friends and classmates with Mann. It's a horrible way to start a new year and a horrendous way to end a life. He had just recently told my daughters to tell me Hi and I said that I'd love to see him again and see him as a man because he was about 9 or 10 maybe even 12 or 13 the last time I saw him. You all have my deepest sympathy. I am so tired of seeing young people leaving this earth through violence. I feel if people want to go around shooting and killing they should be sent to Iraq. Go to war and do yo thang instead of being cowards. You are all in my prayers. I'm getting upset. God bless.

“ This really saddens me as I know it does for everyone who had known Mann. I hadn't seen him since he was a young teen. I saw the picture of him as a grown Mann. He was still handsome.
According to some of the tributes I've read things hadn't changed with the females. I can still hear his voice as a child and I remember the smile. I'd heard a couple years or so back that a female that I've known since she was young had had a child by Mann. If it's true you also have my deepest sympathy especially for the baby that will have to grow up without Mann in his life.
I just had a flashback of Mann at my door after I heard he had gotten suspended from school for 3 days. I asked what happened and gave him a sweet lecture and he kept smiling and was very respectful. I'll never forget those times. That's how I will always remember him. RIP MANN

“ My heart and prayers go out to the Savage and Steele family during this tragic event. "Lil Man" has been a friend of mine for close to 20 years. I vividly remember Keene' and I playing with him, Nikki, and Lil Bob on Jackson St. Even then he was a cute and generous lil man. It's funny how we reunited 10 years later on Jackson St. as if we hadn't missed a beat. I am deeply saddened and confused by his death, but I know it's not up for me to question why. He is now in his Mom's and God's presence surrounded by a crowd of angels. It's easier said than done, but STAY STRONG.

We Will Miss U MAN!

Love,

Chandra

“ our prayers go out to the family who has lost so many lovely and kind family members through out the years. Man as everyone knew him was cool and always treated people around with respect. My first encounter with man was when he first checked into Holmes middle school, he was to knew face and all the girls was on him which was still the case. he was just that type of person who everyone could get along with and liked. we became friends and in the later years would be family. It was a shock getting that news that day and I am quite sure it took a whole lot of people by storm and touched a lot of hearts.

Man your thoughts are with me daily and may you rest in peace. Co Co and aunty Stien stay strong my prayers are with you.
