“ First and foremost, to the family we are indeed sorry we can not be in attendance. But you know that our hearts, thoughts and prayers are right in the mist and walking with you.
It seems that within the last three years the death angel has visit our family hard. But God is still good and he never makes mistakes.
If one thing we can take for Velesco's life is "no matter what circumstance you find yourself in, Joy of the heart and how you view things can and will get you through. Velesco, the strongest person I know that although he went through some challengers in his life, he still had a laugh and a joke for you. He was such a joy and he still is. Everytime I think things are not good in my life I always reflect back to him and realize how blessed I am and how I have no room to complain. WE AS A FAMILY CAN HOLD TO THAT ATTITUDE. Family be strong and know that we are extending our LOVE and selves to you from Burlington, NC.
