“ A Book of Lamar

By Mary O-Savage

(Sunday, September 4, 2016)

Lamar ...he sanctioned...it appears...as his preference to be known as (or aka)...fought a strong battle against the destroyer, vandal, poison, wrecker, raider, bomber, ransacker and executioner & the repulsive source of agony. This repulsive source, which goes by the name of... little c "cancer, would not let-up on Brother Lamar & apprehended valuable life." Lamar was not alone on this fighting journey, he was accompanied by his finest friend, confidant companion, soldier-in-arms sweetheart... I call her my best friend and her name is Natalie Robertson (Marshall). Can I share a little bit about my bff with you, today? Let me tell you about the love and care of Mz. Natalie, Lamar's confidant... I have witnessed her in action & first hand too, as my brother Lamar has also, at the time of my loss of a loving spouse known as Dr. O...Natalie was there behind the scenes for weeks...providing me with whatever I needed from quietness to sharing tears and fears. Lamar knew of Natalie's strength and somehow he summonsed her presence and she appeared providing brother Lamar with a quite-consoling-upholding-solacing-soothing-heartwarming-relieving-wellspring of tears, joy, pain and more. Natalie was in attendance to comfort & assistance brother Lamar during his battle & warfare with this heartless-illness. My brother Lamar loved his nieces and nephews dearly and he mentored them to the best of his abilities whenever one of them needed him, in addition, he mentored & fatherly shepherded his precious Natalie's beautiful children, Mechelle, Geoffrey, & Timothy. The children all adored Lamar and in my observation from the outside-looking in, considered him as a father figure (along with their birth father). I cannot recall ever hearing Lamar speak unpleasantly or poorly of anyone. I have often felt that Lamar would chose the high-road when it came to an individual's feelings or indifference's. Back-in-Day when brother Lamar lived in Tennessee, I was visiting him at the time in the early 90's and he asked me to sing a few bars of a song that either he or I had quickly written, I can't remember which one of us put our fingers to the pen lol. A few weeks later my brother Lamar called me and explained to me that he had sent my singing demo to a radio station... which in turn, the radio station decided to feature (sample) my demo by an audience testing-poll by allowing listeners vote "yay or nay. "Brother Lamar was so excited...I couldn't figure out why lol. He said they loved my voice and singing in Tennessee and he went on to encourage me and build me up, & he said for me to be open to exploring my singing and to continue with my musical abilities. He shared that "absolutely in no way should I ever stop" pursuing my pathway towards my purposeful destiny & my musical edge. Moreover, my brother Lamar was a friend of a young-confused-teenage-male that I was once engrossed-by, at very young teenage. Lamar took on the role of mentoring this person and guiding him out-of- his state of confusion. Into a place of moment-by-moment, day-by-day, year-by-year, positive thinking toward recovery & progression of furtherance and gaining stride. Years later, and this individual has longtime been out of my life but from afar I can finally see that this once confused teenage young-man...finally listened and marched-on one step at time....forward and blossomed from that once small, tiny mustard seed, that was planted in him by God & at the time only God could see, now has become a successful respectful and responsible Man and Father. I am unclear on whether Lamar kept in contact with person or if he knew of the impact his assistance and guidance had on this person by encouraging him to questioning his internal-actions and re-actions of his mistakes and life. Thank U my brother Lamar you gave something to us all,"A Bit of You." Go-Head and Relax My Brother "We Got This! Rest big brother Lamar! Thx

Lamar always wanted to be known as a Moore as a sovereign citizen meaning they did not believe in the world politics and injustices, he would ofyen tell me that he was off the grid. Meaning they had no record of his existence. He did not have a license for a few years and he refuse to get a license for his cars he also talked about being a marine for a few years. And wad a brilliant song writer and musician as well asa very intelligent person when it came time to present facts, good by my dear friend

“ I am sorry for the loss of Mr. Marshall. I find this scripture at Revelation 21:4 comforting that tells us what God is going to do in the near future. It says " And he will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning nor outcry nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away". I hope this scripture too gives you comfort during this difficult time.
