Mr. William Primes Rosborough, more affectionately known as "Bill" was born March 30, 1948 in Flint Michigan, the third child born to Owen W. and Gertrude (Elbert) Rosborough. Bill was a 1966 graduate of Flint Northwestern High School and following graduation he became employed by the Flint Community School System. In 1967 he took a leave of absence and joined the United States Air Force serving a four year tour of duty. After his Honorable Discharge, he returned to his job with the Flint Community Schools and retired in 1996 as a Custodial Supervisor. Bill loved the outdoors and was a skilled and proficient hunter and fisherman spending many hours in the woods and on his boat. As a devoted and faithful member of Detroit Street Church of God (Sanctified), Bill served on the Deacon Board, Trustee Board, Usher Board, the Dining Room Committee and was an all-around handyman for the church. Bill enjoyed spending time with family and was our historian.

When we couldn't remember something from the past or present we would ask Bill and he could supply the answer. With all that he went through, we thank God for keeping his mind sharp to the end.

Bill leaves to cherish his memory: life-long companion, Diean Johnson; daughter, Camellia Coleman; sons, Eric Johnson and John Coleman; sisters, Sherry Baker and Terry Coles, all of Flint, Gwendolyn Goodrum (Jack Wassell) of Federal Way, WA; brother, Gregory Rosborough of Flint; 10 grandchildren including special granddaughter, Etoia (Robert) Stinson; one great-grandchild, Jace Stinson; uncle, Carl (Verma) Rosborough; and a host of nieces, nephews, great nieces and nephews, cousins and friends.

Our heartfelt gratitude and special thank you to Camellia who so unselfishly took on the responsibility of caregiver. You were there for your father everyday when his health began to fail. Special thanks to all the medical facilities and personnel that rendered professional care to our loved one: McLaren-Flint, MediLodge of Grand Blanc, Regency, Willowbrook and his doctor, Brian Bhagat M.D.
