“ Another sunny day has come and gone away, friend God called you home. Even surrounded by family & friends God needed you home. This home down here on Earth was just your temporary home, but God He needed you home. Seeing you smile, many times you encouraged me, prayed for me, but God He needed you home. I didn't get to say goodbye, left me here with tears in my eyes, but God needed you home. So as often as I will think friend of you the laughter, praising God, thing's. Church folks do. Farewell my friend, they'll never be another quit like you. This family has been an inspiration to me. I send my condolences to each of you and pray God strengthen you in this hour...
