“ Rest well uncle Billy, you will be greatly missed. A person with a tough exterior, but at the same time had a soft inner heart (once you got on his good side lol). Good mechanic for all of your car problems. You could call him and over the phone he could tell you what's going on with your vehicle. He was indeed a fusser (his natural character), but he was very very funny with it (which showed he cared) lol. Miss you uncle Billy!!!

“ Take your rest Uncle Billy aka "Steel Bill". You will truly be missed. Especially when it comes to fixing on them cars. A real mechanic. I remember when you fixed my car, and I got around the corner and it started smoking. I remember when you checked my oil and said I was good to go. Maaaaaan ian go nowhere cause the engine went out the next day (I guess I was good to go home). I remember when you added washer fluid to my car and my back tire fell off. I remember when you did my brakes and you said go try it out. I got down the hill and couldn't stop, and you told me you forgot to put the brake pads on. Nah I'm just jiving. But I can definitely see how you got the name "Steel Bill". You had to have some steel in you to lay on grounds in freezing temperatures and fix on people's cars. And in the winter months your consumer bill would under $20 cause you didn't turn on no heat. There will never be another "Steel Bill"!!! Rest Up Unc!!!

“ I always knew this young man as Billy, one of the greatest mechanics that a person would have to work on their car. Billy was a very nice young man that you could have a conversation with and learn alot from. It was a honor to know him., I enjoyed talking to him even when he would come to K- Mark shopping for items to fix someone’s car. We would hold a conversation and I would forget that I was working. I’m glad that God allowed me to meet such an intelligent young man. Rip until we meet again . Sister Mary Wilson

“ Best auto mechanic! My uncle Billy could tell you over the phone what's wrong with your car when you describe in details what your car is doing. When I was younger I would sit by him in church from time to time and admired how he dressed well in his suits (light brown suit especially, maybe cause he wore that one the most LOL)and his cologne would scent that whole section of the row (2nd row) he sat in. My siblings used to say "uncle Billy walk in church fast on purpose so people would smell his cologne better" hahahahaha. He truly loved his grandchildren and daughters. He just love people and cared a lot from what I remembered. I spoke with him last on Nov 5th for about 20 minutes, we laughed and talked about the old days and current. He was telling me how happy he was for me and my husband. One thing is for sure, uncle Billy was a good uncle to me and I will truly miss him dearly
