“ I met “Ms Y” when I was 4 years old in 1980 something and living in a foster home with my 2 sisters. We’d been in an orphanage before that, and a pretty bad family situation before that. My attitude and behavior reflected that trauma...Ms Y was the best part of any day back then and would bring treats and presents along with hope... she would put me in her lap and talk to me, asking me questions, making me laugh, making me talk. She always told me she would keep myself and my sisters together...she did just that and placed us with a wonderful family. A few years later Ms. Y moved into the house right across the street from my family and I got to grow up with Nicole as much a big sister as my own 2 sisters. As I grew up and made some bad decisions, Ms. Y was there, she helped encourage me when grades were bad, helped me get back into school after a year at the Kennedy Center, and graduate from Flint Central. I joined the U.S. Marine Corps after graduating, and would visit her at work when I was home on leave, even bringing the new babies to see her as they came along. I’m saddened that I lost touch as life got busy, kids grew, college, war, etc. needed my time attention. Helping children was more than a job to Ms. Y...it was a calling and she was God’s pick. I am eternally grateful to the woman I thought of my whole life as surrogate mother - Rest with God

“ So very sad to hear of Y's passing. She was such a beautiful soul and one of the smartest folks I have ever had the privilege to know and count as a supervisor and friend! My heart breaks for her family, friends and all the children and families she will no longer be able to serve. Thoughts and prayers to her family!
